So, what's studying at Bradford really like?

You have probably already imagined what your life will be like at Bradford College in Adelaide. You may have ideas about life in Australia based on films, television or stories from friends and family. This guide aims to make your transition into Australia as enjoyable and easy as possible and will tell you what to expect when you attend Bradford College. We hope that this information will help you to form realistic expectations and encourage you to take advantage of the many opportunities ahead.

Will I be able to adjust to a new culture?

At Bradford College we understand that your transition into life in a different culture may be challenging at times – but it will also be fun. You will soon meet people from around the world, try new things, and live in a different culture. One of the best ways to make sure that your transition goes smoothly is to maintain a positive attitude and stay healthy. View your new environment as a place to learn interesting things about yourself and others. Try to get enough sleep, eat properly, exercise, and participate in social activities. Take time to observe and enjoy the new things going on around you and appreciate the differences you find in your host country.

I have more questions...

Please contact your local representative if you have more questions before you depart. After you arrive, Bradford staff at the college will be happy to help you with any problems that you have or any questions you want to ask. For further assistance, please ask at reception on Level 2, 132 Grenfell Street.

Arriving in Adelaide

The emotion associated with leaving home and the initial excitement of travelling can be exhausting. Your initial impressions of your new surroundings may be confusing. It will take some time for you to become familiar with your new environment. This is an opportunity to meet other new and current students, become familiar with the college and the city.

Preparing for your new experience

You probably have mixed feelings about your new experience. You may feel apprehensive leaving behind familiarity and stepping into the unknown, while also feeling excited about starting a new chapter in your life.

You can prepare yourself for the experience by reflecting on your decision to study overseas by asking yourself the following questions:

- Why have I decided to study overseas?
- What do I expect to gain from overseas study?
- What are my goals?
- What are some of the difficulties I might face?

Keeping in mind why you are doing this overseas study is useful when you face challenges in your new environment.

Learn about your new environment

- Talk to staff and students. Ask them where they recommend visiting in the city
- Ask the friendly locals if you need directions
- Try out the public transport. Learn how the ticketing system works. Take a ride on the free city loop bus identified by its yellow colour and 99C number
- Walk around your local area and the city during the day
- Take a friend with you to see and explore more!
- Make an appointment to meet with Student Services staff so they can help you settle in

Under 18 students

If you are under the age of 18, Australian law considers you to be a minor and as such Bradford College takes special interest in your welfare and development. Under 18 students are required to personally meet with their home class teacher or with a member of the college's Student Services staff every two weeks so that the college can assess general welfare and ensure that these students are managing well in their new environment with respect to their accommodation, finances, friendships, health, studies and contacting their family on a regular basis. Bradford College takes their responsibility to take care of under 18 students very seriously and regular checks are made to ensure that your circumstances during your time in Adelaide are optimal at all times.

It is a requirement under Australian law that you keep the college informed at all times of where you are living. Under 18 students are not permitted to live in 'Independent Rental' accommodation until they are 18 years of age. It is a requirement of the Australian Department of Immigration and Citizenship that students under the age of 18 live in accommodation approved by Bradford College until they turn 18. This approved accommodation is exclusive to homestay or a hostel where prior arrangements have been made with management for extra support and supervision.

While Bradford College welcomes students under the age of 18, the University of Adelaide has rules regarding the admission of students who are under 18 years old. Please contact the college to ensure you comply with the University's age admission rules.

Adjusting to a new culture

As the excitement of setting out on this new adventure wears off and you are faced with the constant challenges of daily living and studying in a new culture, you may find that you become more aware of the differences from your home country and miss the familiarity of home. You are experiencing what is often referred to as ‘culture shock’. Culture shock does not always happen quickly or have one single cause.

As time passes you will become more familiar with your new culture and find it easier to interpret the subtle cultural cues. You will feel more confident, develop new friendships and manage social and professional interactions more comfortably. Your study will be more effective and you will gain a sense of benefit from the experience. Use the strategies suggested and the services provided to assist you.

Homesickness

One of the particular effects of culture shock is homesickness. It is important to remember that most people go through a phase of feeling homesick and that these feelings will pass. Homesickness may occur soon after you arrive or it may take you by surprise later in the year. Continuing to use the strategies below will help you to become more familiar with your new environment and to develop new friends. The happier you are in your new culture the less you will think about home and the feelings of homesickness will gradually go away. It is often useful to talk about your feelings with someone. You can use the Bradford student advisers and counsellors to assist you through this challenging time.

Strategies for Adjusting

The following strategies can help you to adjust to the new culture and decrease the impact of culture shock.

- Keep in touch with family and friends through emails, letters or skype or phone calls
- Keep a diary, blog or journal of your experiences – write down what you think and feel; map your progress and reflect on experiences
- Get plenty of exercise

- Look for similarities between your culture and the new one
- Do some familiar activities, especially the things you are good at
- Get involved in an activity that will help you meet people – your student association may be able to help by giving information about the clubs, societies and other social activities available
- Join the association/club of your home country e.g. the Malaysian Students Association
- Remember what you would have done at home to relax and do something similar
- Use English language as much as possible; read the local newspaper and watch television to help develop your English language skills
- Find out what support services at the University offers and how you can benefit
- Set small goals that you can achieve every day
- Observe what others do in the same situation and reflect on why they do it that way; talk to them so you can improve your understanding
- Ask questions when you are unsure what to do or what is expected of you
- Try not to make judgements about others when they do things differently from what you are used to; remember they are only different, not right or wrong

Things to remember

Many things in your environment that you took for granted may be different in a new culture:

- Sights, sounds and smells
- The taste of food
- The way people interact and spend their time. You may be uncertain about what is expected of you in some everyday situations.
- The language and accents
- Approach to study and communication with lecturers may be different

Seeking Medical Help

Culture shock may cause you to experience physical or emotional responses that are difficult to manage. These are warning signs and you need to pay attention to them. You may see a health practitioner or seek advice from staff within the college. Bradford College provides student advisers and counsellors to assist you. Contact the Student Services staff if you think you need help or would like to speak to someone confidentially.

Homestay Accommodation

Our homestay families reflect the diversity of life in Australia. They include young, senior and single parent families and couples with and without children. Hosts have varying ethnic backgrounds and different interests and lifestyles. Treat your hosts as you would your own parents – with respect.

Your Life in a Homestay

Living in a homestay will allow you to practise your English in a real-life setting. It is important to remember that you are both part of a family and a guest at the same time. You may have to help with household chores, keep your bedroom tidy and make your bed each morning. Make sure that you always ask permission to bring friends round and remember to ask before you change channels on the television!

Meals

Breakfast: Breakfast is usually a light meal consisting of cereal, fruit, toast, juice or coffee. Often these foods will be made available to you and you will prepare your own morning meal (otherwise known as 'help yourself').
Lunch: You may be provided with a packed lunch. There are also lots of cafes, restaurants and shops nearby where you will be able to buy lunch.
Dinner: Dinner may be a shared meal in the evening, or occasionally you may prepare your own meal with food supplied by your host.

What to bring

You can purchase toiletries and other personal needs locally, but if you have specific items that you need, you should bring them with you. Your host will provide you with bed linen and towels. If you have any prescription medications that you are required to take, you should bring a supply with you.

Laundry Facilities

You have access to laundry facilities at your host family's home. Some families prefer to do the laundry for you. Please do not wash clothes in the bathroom or dry them in your bedroom, cupboards or on heaters.

Telephone and Internet Use

You should buy a phone card or use your mobile phone to make telephone calls. Your hosts' telephone should only be used for emergency incoming calls. Remember to notify your family back home of any time differences to avoid calls in the middle of the night. It is often very expensive to make international calls from a home line, which is why we recommend using a phone card. Please always ask your host family for permission to use the home line and about their rules regarding internet use.

Smoking

When you book your accommodation, please request a homestay that allows smoking if you smoke. Most hosts will ask smokers to smoke outside. Always ask your host family upon arrival for their specific house rules regarding smoking. It is general courtesy to ask someone for permission to smoke next to them, even if you are outside. In Australia it is against the law to smoke in any building open to the public including a restaurant or any area where food is being prepared.

Things to remember

- You are a guest as well as part of the family
- You may have to take part in family chores
- Always keep your room locked and your valuables hidden
- Purchase a phone card for international calls
- Do not hang your laundry to dry in your room
- Ask permission to have a friend come visit you
- Notify your family if you are not coming home for the night
- Ask permission to smoke

Laws and Customs

You may find that laws are enforced differently in Australia than they are in your home country. You must obey the country's laws and respect its customs. It is important that you understand the laws, rules, and customs that you may encounter.

Laws

- No one under the age of 18 in Australia may buy or drink alcohol, including beer and wine. It is against the law to buy alcohol for someone you know is under the age of 18
- Driving under the influence of alcohol is a very serious crime and police make regular random checks
- You will need international ID to enter bars, clubs or pubs (e.g. Passport, ID Card, Driving Licence)
- Buying, selling and using drugs is illegal
- You must attend all classes. If you do not attend 80% of classes your representative and parents may be informed. If you do not then improve your attendance Bradford College is required to report you to the Federal Department of Immigration and Citizenship (DIAC), and this may result in the cancellation of your student visa
- Under the national code, student information may be made available to Commonwealth and State agencies
The Police and Bradford College are very strict in enforcing these laws.

Customs

Customs are an accepted way of behaviour in a country. You need to know the customs of Australia to help you feel comfortable with people. Some important customs to know include:

- Women: Women in Australia are equal to men and should always be treated fairly. Men and women share equally in household work and childcare
- Queues: Always stand in line and wait your turn when buying tickets, in a bank, post office or waiting for a bus. Keep to the left when standing on escalators.
- Friendliness: Australian people talk to strangers in public areas. This is a great way to practise English, but caution should be taken. You should not give out your address and telephone number, or accept inappropriate invitations. Although most people are friendly, some may be reluctant to speak with strangers
- Compliments: It is acceptable to comment on things such as a person's clothes, appearance or character if it is positive. Avoid comments that could offend someone
- Smiling: Australian people show that they are happy by smiling. A person who only wears a serious expression may be perceived as unfriendly
- Please and Thank you: These are very important words! Always use them if you ask someone to do something for you, or if they help you or give you information
- Spitting: It is considered rude to spit anywhere
- Privacy: Australians have a strong sense of privacy. It is not polite for guests to go into other bedrooms in the house unless invited. It is expected that guests do not open private desk drawers or cupboards and ask before using equipment such as stereos, the TV or the computer
- Tissues: Australians clear their nose into a tissue when they have a cold. This is called 'blowing your nose' and it is perfectly acceptable to make a noise while doing so. It is considered bad manners not to use a tissue and to make a loud sniffing sound instead. The tissue should be put in the bin and not be left lying around

- Buying, selling and using drugs is illegal
- Women are treated as equal to men in Australia
- Remember to say please and thank you

Your Responsibilities

As an overseas student on a student visa, you have responsibilities to:

- Satisfy your Student Visa conditions
- Maintain your Overseas Student Health Cover (OSHC) for the period of your stay

- Maintain satisfactory course progress
- Maintain 80% attendance during your course
- If you are under 18, maintain your approved accommodation, support and general welfare arrangements

Health and Safety

If you or a friend is seriously ill and needs an ambulance call 000. Stay calm and describe to the operator on the line what type of assistance you need (ambulance, fire or police) and your location. You may be required to describe any symptoms. Explain as much as you can, do not worry if you are not confident with your English say as much as you can, as clearly as you can.

Medical Insurance for Student Visa holders

The Australian government requires all students on Student Visas to join the Overseas Student Health Cover (OSHC) Scheme, a health insurance plan for overseas students in Australia.

This insurance covers:

- Visits to a doctor (approximately 85% of the scheduled fee)
- The total cost of hospital treatment provided that the treatment is in a public hospital and is provided by a hospital doctor
- Emergency ambulance transport

This insurance does not cover:

- Dental costs
- Physiotherapy
- Optical glasses, contact lenses
- Medical expenses for any pre-existing medical condition before you came to Australia, during the first 18 months of membership
- Treatment covered by provisions for compensation and damages or accidents

Please note that you are covered from your very first day of study. Prior cover can be otherwise arranged should you plan on coming to Australia a few weeks before your course starts.
